WHO WILL FOLLOW THIS NOTICE

The privacy practices described in this notice will also be followed by all our employees and volunteers. The privacy practices will also be followed by providers you consult with by telephone or in person when your regular primary care provider is not available.

HOW WE MAY USE AND DISCLOSE HEALTH INFORMATION ABOUT YOU

We may disclose health information about you to doctors, physician assistants, family nurse practitioners, nurses, integrated health staff, medical assistants, technicians, office staff, other personnel, or volunteers and other medical professionals who are involved in taking care of you and your health.

For example: Different personnel in our office may share information about you and disclose information to people who do not work in our office in order to coordinate your care, such as phoning in prescriptions to your pharmacy, scheduling lab work and ordering x-rays. Family members and other health care providers may be part of your medical care outside this office and may require information about you that we have.

- For Payment: We may use and disclose health information about you so that the treatment and services you receive at this office may be billed to and payment may be collected from you, an insurance company or a third party.

For example: We may need to give your health plan information about a service you received here so your health plan will pay us or reimburse you for the service. We may also tell your health plan about a treatment you are going to receive to obtain prior approval, or to determine whether your plan will cover the treatment.

- For Health Care Operations: We may use and disclose health information about you in order to run the office and make sure that you and our other patients receive quality care.

For example: We may use your health information to evaluate the performance of our staff in caring for you. We may also use health information about all or many of our patients to help us decide what additional service we should offer. We may also use health information in order to secure funding to keep our programs running. We may use telehealth technology (electronic communication) for medical information exchange through a secure network from one site to another.

For example: Rogue Community Health is part of an organized health care arrangement including participants in the Oregon Community Health Information Network (OCHIN). A current list of OCHIN participants is available at www.ochin.org. As a business associate of Rogue Community Health, OCHIN supplies information technology and related services to Rogue Community Health and other OCHIN participants. OCHIN also engages in quality assessment and improvement activities on behalf of its participants. For example, OCHIN coordinates clinical review activities on behalf of participating organizations to establish best practice standards and assess clinical benefits that may be derived from the use of electronic health record systems. OCHIN also helps participants work collaboratively to improve the management of internal and external patient referrals. Your personal health information may be shared by Rogue Community Health with other OCHIN participants when necessary for health care operations purposes of the organized health care arrangement. Health care operations can include, among other things, geocoding your residence location to improve the clinical benefits you receive.
